

ZEBRITA-CNS-NYNOLYT

Zebritia Technologies Newsletter

In this issue:

- Value of Zebritia Newsletter
- Latest News
- Who is behind Zebritia
- Recap

Value of Zebritia Newsletter

Hello and Welcome to Zebritia Newsletter. The value of this newsletter is to achieve a communication and understanding of the processes and knowledge I have to give to the readers of this publication. I will try my best to use honesty and integrity within my words,

Thank you!

Latest News

2 years ago, I did it, built a touch keyboard to use on Desktop PC's:

Q: How did you do it?

A: I ordered a 7 inch touch display from Amazon.ca and configured it as a touch type keyboard on my Windows 11 Laptop.

Q: How much did it cost?

A: I spent around $130 CAN on the touch screen, the software I used was either included in Microsoft Windows or downloadable.

—Recap

“When I cross two paths and I choose the wrong path at first, the next time I hope to choose the right path and if not, I will try again and again...”

-Robert Frost

Who is behind Zebritia

My name is Colin, the person behind Zebritia, I live in Edmonton, AB, Canada. I plan to develop software and hardware solutions for Zebritia.

